

2006 MIDTERM ELECTIONS IN THE USA

SPECIAL BULLETIN

By John S. Torell

The picture that emerges in the United States after the midterm elections is similar to what happened in 1968, when the American people, tired of the war in Vietnam, voted out the democrats and elected the republican candidate, Richard Nixon, as the next president of the United States. The American involvement in Vietnam started during World War II, when President Roosevelt (democrat), was in office. It continued under Truman (democrat), Eisenhower (republican) and then escalated first during J. F. Kennedy's (democrat) term with massive enlargement under Lyndon B. Johnson (democrat).

The American people were used to winning wars, not losing and in both World War I and II there was a decisive American victory, twice over Germany and then when Japan was crushed. The Korean War became a downer, since the United States was not allowed to win, it was a "containment war." Victory was also denied in Vietnam, with rules that the U.S. forces could not close the flow of weapons from China, neither could they invade North Vietnam and clean out the communists ruling the north.

With losses of hundreds of American soldiers per week in Vietnam, most of them draftees, the American people decided it was time to get out, regardless of what happened to the people of South Vietnam. Nixon and the Republicans promised to bring our troops home and let Vietnam go, which they did.

WHAT WENT WRONG IN IRAQ?

Democrats and Republicans will have different versions of what they think. But in order to understand the entire situation, we have to expose the root problem to this war. In previous newsletters long before the war in Iraq began, I have laid out the history of the region during the last 90 years in detail.¹ Also, in The Dove magazine from 2004, I covered events in the Middle East from the breakup of the Ottoman Empire (Turkey) after World War I and how the Western powers carved up the area into nations as they now exist.² England, France and the United States brutally occupied the entire area and suppressed all opposition. After World War II, the nations received some relief from the oppression of the West, and it is the brutal oppression during the last 90 years which has fomented the hatred for the United States, England and France in the Arab world.

During our two invasions of Iraq in 1990 and 2002, it was never intended for the United States to win, but to fight a war without end. Just like in Korea and Vietnam. Let me now give you the details.

DRIVING POLICIES IN THE MIDDLE EAST

There are three major policies being pushed for the Middle East. Let us begin with Israel and its goals for the region.

ISRAEL

As I have laid out in my writings from 1995 and on, Jewish interests in the region are now in the hands of the World Zionist Federation, which took control over the Jewish world population in an arbitration war dating back to 1898 with the first Zionist Congress in Basel, Switzerland. The theological philosophy of the Federation is the Cabala and built upon the failed attempt by Sabbatai Sevi in 1666, when he proclaimed himself to be the Jewish Messiah.³ The vision of the men who founded the Zionistic movement was to capture the land of Palestine and repopulate it with Jewish people from around the world. In order to make it a “pure” Jewish state, the offspring of the Philistines, Canaanites, Jebusites, etc. were to be eliminated either through death or deportation. This was clearly laid out in the policies adopted in the 1897 Zionist Congress in Basel, Switzerland.

Since the Federation did not have a major Jewish military force at its disposal, the goal of cleansing the land of non-Jews had to be done in stages. The Federation controlled the banking industry in the world and could put pressure on political leaders in the West to do its bidding. As I have written in Dove Magazines dating back to 1995, World War I was the first step to destroy the Ottoman Empire (Turkish) and thus wresting control over the entire Middle East and turn it over to England, France and the United States.

However, the Federation experienced a setback after World War I, when the British government refused to allow unlimited immigration of Jews to Palestine. Certain political leaders in England understood that the Federation was working on a plan to build up a large Jewish population in Palestine, which could then be used to foment strife and eventually proclaim a Jewish state. Also, German Jews and many other Jews in the Western part of Europe were not excited about the prospect of selling all they had and starting over as immigrants in a land which was not developed and was nothing but a third world area. There were plenty of poor Jews from Russia and Eastern Europe willing to move to Palestine and join the socialistic society that the Federation was building.

NAZI-ZIONIST COOPERATION

Thus, the foundation of the Nazi movement became important to the Federation, and as I have documented in previous issues of The Dove, most of the leadership in the Nazi party were either full-blooded Jews or half bloods. Even Adolf Hitler had a Jewish father and an Aryan mother from Austria. The purpose of the Nazi party was to create as much hell as possible for the Jews in Europe, and then the Federation, working hand in hand with Nazi officials, would invite German Jews to begin the move to Palestine.⁴

But it would take another world war to soften the nations and shake out any resistance to a Jewish state, hence, the reason behind World War II.

When the war was over in 1945, the British were still the custodians for Palestine and Jordan. From 1945 to 1948, the Federation built up terrorist organizations (Haganah, Irgun, Betar and the Stern Gang), which operated in Palestine causing great damage to the British troops holding the area.⁵

In 1948, the Brits had been so bloodied that the British people and military were sick and tired of losing soldiers in Palestine, and a withdrawal date was set. Just like we are now seeing in Iraq. The Federation had built up a Jewish armed force and the Arab nations around Palestine mobilized in order to move in and take control of Palestine as soon as the British troops were out. On May 14, 1948, the Zionist World Federation proclaimed the formation of the State of Israel, and in less than 24 hours, the United States and the Soviet Union each recognized her as a nation. The Zionists had made these arrangements in advance with the United States and the Communist regime of the Soviet Union, and with these two super powers behind them, the State of Israel was accepted by the United Nations. War immediately broke out as the Arab forces attacked the brand new nation. The Zionists have re-written history and claimed that well armed forces from the Arab nations attacked a "poor ragtag army of Jews" who were trying to defend their land and families. This is simply not true since the secret armed forces of the Federation had prepared for a war and were well armed. As a matter of fact, the Federation wanted this war in order to take more territory and "clean out" the Palestinians, which they did. Both sides showed great cruelty and civilians were massacred by both sides. The brutal force showed by the Israeli forces scared millions of Palestinians into fleeing into Lebanon, Jordan and Egypt.

These later became pawns in the political battle, as the Arab governments refused to let these refugees become absorbed into their general population and forced them to stay in camps for the next 58 years in order to put pressure on Israel. The children and grandchildren of these refugees became what are today known as the PLO, Fatah and Hezbollah. These people were not allowed back into their homes in Israel, nor were they allowed to start a new life in Jordan, Lebanon or Egypt. As a result, they were never able to settle back down and begin again, consequently, they had no future and so they resorted to violence and were in a sense forced to become terrorists and suicide bombers.

On September 17, 1948 an assassination squad from the Jerusalem division of the Stern gang ambushed the Swedish nobleman, Folke Bernadotte,⁶ who at that time was the peace mediator for the United Nations in the war between Israel and the Arabs. A road block was set up just outside Jerusalem, and once the car had stopped, gunmen ripped open the doors and riddled the U.N. envoy with bullets. The murderers sped away in their car and Folke died later in a hospital.

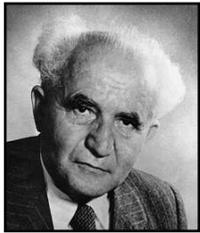

From the very beginning, the Federation knew that it was going to be difficult to hold onto the land, due to the fact that the birth rate among Arabs was higher than that of the Jews, plus their base was much smaller. A number of wars were fought in 1955, 1967 and 1973. But it was in Lebanon that Israel was defeated politically first in 1978, then in 1982 and now politically and militarily in 2006. In these small wars, Israel invaded Lebanon, but each time was forced to withdraw either from pressure from the United Nations or from the general population in Israel.

ISRAEL GOES NUCLEAR

The Federation, under the leadership of Ben Gurion, realized that time was not on the side of Israel, and that something had to be done in order to make sure that the Arab nations would never dare to attack Israel. Therefore, in the late 1940's, Jewish spies stole the technology of building atomic bombs and shared it with the Soviet Union. A vast underground complex was built in the Negev desert, at a place called Dimona research center, with an atomic reactor to begin producing material for an atomic bomb. The current stockpile of nuclear bombs in Israel's arsenal is thought to be over 300, some of them placed in missiles, others carried on Israeli submarines and still others to be dropped by aircraft. Every Israeli government from the time of Ben Gurion has consistently lied and told the world that the State of Israel does not have nuclear weapons.

What most people do not know or have forgotten is that the Federation forged cooperation with the White South African government in the 1950's, and in return Israel was able to conduct atomic bomb tests in South African territorial waters, while the South African Government was able to produce their own nuclear weapons, though they were never used. The entire operation was dismantled in 1994 when the black majority ousted the South African government and dismantled its apartheid policy, which Israel still continues to practice. We must also remember that during the worldwide boycott of South Africa, Israel became the white regime's best friend, and supplied South Africa with everything it needed to continue to oppress its black population.

THE INTIFADA (Shaking off)

For many years, the PLO and the Fatah movement operated a low intensive war, with the basic usage of suicide bombers, which created havoc among the civilian population. The first response by the Israeli military was to send in massive numbers of troops to the Gaza strip and the West Bank and try to suppress the attacks. Instead, it demoralized the Israeli soldiers, as they were told to be brutal to the Palestinian civilian population. Public outcry in Israel forced the Israeli government to pull out and try to establish a Palestinian state. This policy has failed because radical Muslims rejected it and have done everything to wreck any peace accord between Israel and the Palestinians.

ISRAEL IS LOSING ITS GRIP ON THE MIDDLE EAST

The nation of Israel is facing a number of problems. Most of the leadership in the Federation, government circles, military leadership and a large portion of the population do not believe in the God of the Old Testament, but are atheists, agnostics, New Agers or followers of the Cabala. Thus, the moral fiber of Israel is at a very low point, and the nation has a large number of whorehouses, where young women from Russia and Eastern European countries have been lured to Israel by the Jewish mafia, then had their passports taken away and forced to work as sex slaves. The Israeli police will do very little to help these victims, instead, pimps ply them with alcohol and other drugs to keep them under control until they are too old and damaged to be sold in the "human meat market," at which time they are discarded like trash and left to fend for themselves.

Death through disease or suicide is their ticket out of slavery. Homosexuality is also rising among young Jewish men and women as they sink deeper and deeper into debauchery.

Since the foundation of Israel in 1948, more than 700,000 Jews have left Israel either for Western Europe or North America. In the October 27, 2006 issue of the Jewish magazine "Forward," there was an article which reported that officials from Israel, led by the minister of immigration absorption, Ze'ev Boim, have descended on the United States to try to lure these Jews back to Israel since the population decrease in Israel is catastrophic for the nation. In the past, those Jews that left have been called traitors and Jews of shame, but the situation is now so desperate that the Government of Israel will go to any length to woo them back. There are some 6,000 Jews currently returning to Israel but Boim wants to double that number.

A large portion of the population in Israel is tired of the many wars with no peace and constant harassment from Palestinians and the Hezbollah in the north. People are demoralized and filled with fear of more suicide bombers and rocket attacks. They realize that the fanatical Zionists who set up the State of Israel did not care or take into account what 58 years of wars and terror would do to the people.

Furthermore, Israel has never been able to economically stand on its own feet. From its foundation in 1948, the Government of the United States has pumped in billions of dollars each year to shore up this experiment in building a nation from scratch, carved out on the backs of hostile Palestinians. Military aid has prevented Israel from losing its many wars, and should the American people ever become fed up with paying for this socialist venture, Israel would collapse financially. According to Israeli government sources, it is going to cost one billion dollars to replenish depleted war material from the war in 2006 with Hezbollah. Add to this the loss in income and productivity when tens of thousands of Israeli citizens were called up to fight in this war, not to mention rebuilding the infrastructure and homes that the Hezbollah rockets destroyed.

The worst damage suffered in this latest conflict with Hezbollah is the image loss of the Israeli Defense Forces (IDF). In every war since 1948, Israel's enemies were beaten to the ground and humiliated, but this time, the Hezbollah army (Iranian trained and equipped) was able to stand up against the Israeli forces and inflict heavy damages. When a cease fire was called, Israel withdrew and Hezbollah took back control of the Lebanese land which they had before the war. Respect for Israel and its armed forces among the countries in the Middle East is now gone and this defeat will embolden political leaders to think and believe that Israel can be defeated and the Jews be driven into the Mediterranean Sea.

NUCLEAR THREAT FROM IRAN

In the January-February 2006 newsletter, I wrote in detail about Israel's future war with Iran. In my mind, there is no question that there will be a war, the question is when? The war in Lebanon in the summer of 2006 was in reality an attack by the Iranian government, using Palestinians as soldiers in an Iranian army group, led by Iranian officers, supplied by Iran via Syria, and paid by Iran using its vast profits from selling oil to the west. The Iranian government wanted to test the defenses of Israel, particularly her defense against incoming rockets. The result is that the air defenses of Israel against incoming missiles are full of holes. Thus, a cluster of missiles launched in Iran and armed with nuclear bombs, would reach its target and kill more than 90% of the Jewish population in Israel. Israel as a nation would cease to exist in just a matter of minutes and the ground would be contaminated just like it was in Nagasaki and Hiroshima in 1945 when the United States dropped two atomic bombs over Japan. Therefore, the Israeli government cannot wait until it is attacked; in order to survive, it has to attack Iran using nuclear weapons to bomb this nation back to the Stone Age.

In the fall of 2006, Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Olmert stated in a number of speeches given in the United States as he tried to rally support for Israel, that he and his government would not accept a nuclear Iran, and if necessary, he would give the order to destroy the Iranian nuclear facilities. Since the Iranian nuclear program is located in vast underground facilities, it will take atomic bombs to destroy them and the technical personnel.

Does the Israeli government have the nerve to start a nuclear war in the Middle East? The answer is, YES! The Federation that controls Israel has labored for more than 500 years to create a Jewish state, and the attack on the nuclear reactor facility in Iraq in 1981 shows their resolve. The American government, regardless of whether Republicans or Democrats are in control, is weak, unstable and without a clear goal or policy. Israel's government has one goal, to make sure the nation survives, regardless of the cost.

DESTABILIZING THE MIDDLE EAST

As I wrote in my January-February newsletter earlier this year, Israel does not want strong Islamic nations in the Middle East. The Israelis remember that when the United States attacked Iraq in 1991 in what is called, "The Gulf War," Saddam Hussein rained Scud missiles down on Israeli towns. What most Americans might not know or have forgotten is the fact that the United States supported Saddam Hussein in 1979 with finances and military aid during his eight year war with Iran. I covered this in detail in my October 2002 newsletter, which can be found on our website.

It was in the interest of Israel to take out Saddam and make sure that Iraq would fall into three parts, Kurds in the north, Sunnis in the Middle and Shiites in the south. Israel, through its intelligence service, the Mossad, has established a firm foothold in the north with the Kurds, and is training and arming the Kurds to hold their territory once Iraq splits up. Israel also wants to have American troops indefinitely in Iraq to hold back Iran from taking over the south and the Syrians from taking the middle of Iraq. Israel, America's ally is actually our worst enemy since it works behind the scenes to keep the violence going in Iraq.

SUMMARY OF ISRAELI POLICIES IN THE MIDDLE EAST:

- To make sure that all Islamic nations stay weak, militarily, politically and economically.
- To make it impossible for the U.S. to withdraw its troops from the region.
- It's a win-win situation for Israel to have U.S. troops doing the fighting and dying, paid for by American tax payers, all while keeping Israel safe from further attacks.

With a strong lobby in the United States, including Christian Zionists,⁷ American policies are being twisted and maneuvered to fit the Israeli purpose. President Bush and his government never had a chance to win in Iraq; instead, he was forced to make horrible blunders to make sure that there would be no peace and democracy in Iraq.

Most Americans do not have a criminal mind and do not want to see how America is being led down the road to death and destruction by fanatical Zionists, who are bent on hanging onto the State of Israel, regardless of how many millions of people must die for this "nightmare." In the October 27, 2006 issue of the Jewish magazine "Forward," there was a headline on the front page that read:

"PELOSI WORKS TO SHORE UP IMAGE. Would be House Speaker Praised by Jewish Groups."

This was written before the election to assure American Jewish voters that Nancy Pelosi is one of them. Here are a few clips from this article:

"The truth, according to Pelosi's backers, is quite different. On matters concerning the Jewish state she is a mainstream as they get, sticking to a pro-Israeli line ever since she entered Congress..."

"To demonstrate the extent of Pelosi's support for Israel and for the Jewish community, Jewish activists in the Bay Area (San Francisco) tells the story of a luncheon given several years ago by pro-Israel lobbying powerhouse, the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC), at which Pelosi was one of the speakers. Suddenly an alarm went off in the building and the participants began rushing to the doors. All but one – Pelosi, who stood up and recited Israel's national anthem. The impression that this event left on the Jewish activists who were gathered in the room is now one of Pelosi's main assets as she tries to improve her image in pro-Israel circles...."

Many pro-Israel observers surveyed by the Forward predicted that if Pelosi does become speaker (she did), the House (congress) would remain staunchly pro-Israel given the bipartisan support enjoyed by Jerusalem...."

"After the war in Lebanon ended, Pelosi gathered a group of local Jewish communal leaders from her home district to discuss the outcome. 'She was eloquent in her support for a strong Israel,' said San Francisco JCRC executive director Dough Kahn, who attended the meeting. 'She feels it in her bones.'"

Did you ever hear Nancy Pelosi make these statements to a crowd of regular Americans while she made campaign speeches before the election?

Nancy Pelosi is not alone, all American political leaders are pro-Israel or their political life is over. There is no money available to any political leader who will stand up and question America's support for Israel. Those who have done so have been labeled anti-Semitic, ridiculed by the Jewish controlled mass media, and lambasted by other political leaders. Our "fearless" politicians will get out on the campaign trail and lambaste the policies of the other party, but they line up like sheep in agreement on Israel, "The Golden Calf."

THE POLICIES OF THE UNITED STATES IN THE MIDDLE EAST

The terrible sad truth is, THE UNITED STATES DOES NOT HAVE A POLICY IN THE MIDDLE EAST!

The democrats are accurate when they tell the American people that the Bush administration does not have a policy for the Middle East of how to end the war in Iraq and bring the American troops home. But as the democrats campaigned and rode on the rejection of the war in Iraq, they never offered a solution. All they said was, "We are going to bring the troops home." When asked how it was going to be done, they would not and could not provide an answer because they knew that Israel's government had said no, you as a nation are to stay in Iraq indefinitely and keep bleeding.

The Republicans were stuck with an unpopular war and the Democrats took advantage of it to take control of the Senate and the House. But once they are in control, it is going to be the same old -- same old, because all politicians in the United States are singing in the "Israeli choir" directed by Christian Zionists. This will continue until the American people wake up, and how are they going to be able to wake up when they are fed a pro-Israel diet from the media, in church and in the business world, not to mention our educational system?

HOW THE WAR IN IRAQ SHOULD HAVE BEEN FOUGHT

If President Bush had been a free agent and concerned with American needs and security, he would have followed a magnificent example from American history -- WORLD WAR II.

Once the United States was dragged into the war on December 7, 1941, the policy of the United States could be summed up in these words: GO FOR BROKE!

President Roosevelt understood that a world war on two fronts needed to be run by Generals, not civilians. The whole nation was put on war footing and men were immediately drafted. A military force of 12 million men and women was built up in less than two years. There was no cost spared as America built up its army, navy, air force.

During the years 1942-45, there were no automobiles produced in the U.S., instead the auto industry built tanks, trucks, jeeps and aircraft: bombers and fighters. Since millions of men were drafted to serve in the armed forces, women were hired to work in the factories and shipyards.

From 1942 to 1944, the United States moved troops and equipment to England and it was a common joke at that time that England might sink since millions of tons of war material were stocked there. The decision was made to prioritize the war effort in Europe and make the war against Japan secondary.

Food, shoes, gasoline and tires were rationed in the U.S. and the whole nation lived and breathed to win the war. In 1942, the first U.S. troops landed in North Africa and suffered heavy losses against the Germans. Battle hardened British soldiers saved the American forces and together they were able to drive out the Germans and Italians from North Africa.

The Generals learned that they could not send in "green" troops against battle hardened German units, it would take more training and better equipment.

After North Africa came the invasion of Sicily under the command of General Patton and General Montgomery of England. From here, Italy was invaded and by this time, American troops were able to slug it out against the Germans and liberate Italy.

As the largest invasion force in the world was being assembled in England for the invasion of France, known now as D-Day, which took place in June 1944, another preparation was being made by the American military command. It is one thing to invade a nation and destroy its military force, it is another thing to hold on to the nation and take control.

A huge intelligence operation was established in 1942 to set up military units to take over the civilian administration in Italy, France and Germany. Civilians were drafted to serve in these units, and the goal was to move in as soon as a city had been taken and set up a military security control, but run the administrative services with American civilian advisors who would work with the local population. The biggest test would be to pacify Germany as soon as possible.

A decision was made to divide Germany into four zones, to be run by the British, French, Americans, and the Soviet's. American intelligence operators brought in data of who the local town and country leaders were and if they were hardcore Nazis. The goal was to locate native leadership and quickly build up an infrastructure. Local policemen were needed to quickly establish law and order but they needed Nazi diehards weeded out. The quicker a town or an area could be turned over to civilian rule, the faster American troops could be brought back to the United States, leaving only a small force stationed on American bases. It would also make the occupation of Germany easier, since the people could see that they were going to have their own country given back to them, and in a short time, through elections, set up their own government with a new constitution.

When the war ended in 1945, Germany had been bombed back to the Stone Age. The Soviet Union tried to capitalize on the destruction of the economy, lack of food, etc. The American generals knew that they must win the peace once the war was over. Thus, the Marshall Plan came into being and billions of dollars were invested to rebuild Europe, particularly Germany. German soldiers had to be helped back into civilian life and given jobs to take care of their families and a new German army to be built.

It is important to also point out that the majority of the German Intelligence operators under the Nazi regime were quickly hired by all four occupying powers and put to work for their own intelligence services. General Reinhard Gehlen and most of his staff surrendered to the American Army and were taken to the United States, despite his membership in the Nazi party. He became employed by the CIA and was sent back to Germany to head the intelligence service of West Germany. He served as the head of Germany's intelligence service until 1968. The people who had served under the Nazis were more than happy to switch sides, keep their jobs and not have to answer for their war crimes, and give the allies information on any German trying to resist the occupation.

Then the Western allies decided that it would be better to combine the French, American and British zones and give them back to the Germans, which became West Germany. In a short time, millions of Germans were employed to rebuild the roads, railroads, shipping lanes, cities, factories etc., and by 1952, people in the world talked about the “German miracle.”

There was no German resistance once the Nazi government capitulated, only in a few places and for a short time did former German soldiers roam, loot and set up road blocks. The occupation of Germany and Italy went according to the textbook, and if you travel in these nations today, there are no traces of war damage. It is hard to believe that a major war was even fought there. The United States used the same method in Japan, and in a short time, Japan had come back as an economic power house.

The American generals knew that they had to deal with Protestants and Catholics in Germany and Buddhists in Japan. If you want to have peace with the population, you must respect their religion and work with them, not against them.

THE BLUNDERS IN IRAQ

A large portion of the Iraqi military officers were very displeased with Saddam Hussein and his regime. Before the invasion Iraq, American military propaganda units broadcast to the Iraqi military leaders and told them, “If you do not put up a fight when we come in, we will not attack you.” Eighty percent of the Iraqi military units did not put up a fight but simply watched the American troops sweep in. The United States prepared a similar plan for Iraq as was used in World War II, and a civilian administrator, retired U.S. Army General, Jay Garner, was brought in to work with Iraqi government officials and army officers. He began his administration in March, 2003 and was fired May 11, 2003. General Garner was going to work with different factions left over from the Saddam Hussein administration and most likely he would have been able to stabilize Iraq in a short time. This was not the policy of the World Zionist Federation and pressure was put on President Bush to fire Garner and bring in a man who had been working for the Federation for years. His name was Lewis Paul Bremer III.

I have not been able to find out who his parents are or his ethnic background. We know that Paul was born in 1941, in Hartford, Connecticut. After college, he started to work for the State Department and became a career diplomat. It is interesting that in 1994, Paul and his wife Francie converted to the Roman Catholic faith. From what they converted I have not been able to find out.

During the years 1972-76, Paul worked at the State Department under Henry Kissinger, a well known leader in World Government circles. Kissinger is a German born Jew who was taken to the U.S. by his parents. He joined the U.S. Army and was sent to Germany in 1945 as part of the American intelligence staff which brought tens of thousands of Nazi scientists, medical doctors and German rocket designers to the U.S. This was known as “Operation Paper Clip.”

In 1989, Paul had retired from the State Department and became managing director for the firm, Kissinger and Associates, and later worked for a number of different American corporations with international interests.

It did not take Paul Bremer long to wreck any progress made by Jay Garner in Iraq. One of his first deeds was to double-cross the Iraqi Army by dissolving the 400,000 strong army on May 23, 2004 and force them into unemployment. The promise by the U.S. prior to the invasion of Iraq was made null and void by Bremer and he drove hundreds of thousands of Iraqi soldiers into the hands of the Sunni opposition. Even Al Qaeda was able to recruit from this vast pool of man power. Then Bremer did more damage, by declaring as the U.S. Occupation governor, that all members of the Baath party were to lose their jobs in Iraqi government service. Since almost every civil servant under Saddam Hussein had been forced to join this political party, the majority of people working for the State of Iraq, including teachers, doctors, nurses, and other professionals lost their jobs. Thus, Bremer destroyed the infrastructure of the Iraqi government agencies. Bremer carried out his orders and the result was chaotic.

Saddam Hussein had a large sophisticated intelligence service, which during the days of Saddam, operated even outside Iraq and kept track of people opposed to Saddam's regime. Even if these people were evil and corrupt, it would have been better to hire them and have them work for the CIA to ferret out Al Qaeda fighters and other radicals. After all, the U.S. and its allies did this in World War II with German intelligence, including members of the Gestapo. At the fall of East Germany in 1990, the CIA hired the top echelon of the dreaded STASI, East Germany's infamous intelligence service.

This the U.S. would have done, but Bremer had orders to wreck Iraq and make it impossible to rule, and thus the Iraqi intelligence service was disbanded. The Baghdad police under Saddam were known for their brutality but they kept order in the city. Instead of using them to make sure that Baghdad could be secured, they were dismissed.

Thus, the U.S. troops who at first were greeted as liberators, now became the target of hate and some 5,000 Americans (military and civilian) had to die in Iraq, to make sure that the Federation's policies for Israel were followed.

Bremer was the supreme ruler of Iraq, so the commanding U.S. officer in charge of American military forces in Iraq could only stand by and watch the deterioration and the loss of soldiers on a daily basis. President Bush and leaders of both parties in the United States know the truth, but if they say anything or take action, the Jewish lobby will take them on and there are no political leaders in the U.S. willing to stand up for truth, since they do not want to lose their jobs or be assassinated.

However, the situation in northern Iraq is different. Very quickly the American occupational forces allowed the Kurdish leaders to take control and form their own government, military forces and police and the result is that there is very little violence in the north. This is how the Federation wanted it since the Kurds are now in alliance with Israel and IDF forces and the Mossad has a large presence in the Kurdish region of Iraq. To the south, the British were the occupying force, and for a long time there was not a lot of violence, until the Iranian government figured out that unless they stir up trouble in the south of Iraq to drive out the Brits and then make a Shiite section of Iraq, they would lose this opportunity. Syria in the West is supporting the Sunnis and Al Qaeda and wants to take what they can grab of a chaotic Iraq.

BREMER LEAVES IRAQ

On June 23, 2004, 14 months since Bremer came to Iraq, he was replaced by another Federation man, John Negroponte. Bremer was brought back to the United States and is currently the chairman of the Advisory Board for Global Secure Corporation. Most of Bremer's senior staff left Iraq when he did.

Since Iraq at this time had a so-called "government," Negroponte was appointed as the first ambassador to the new democratic Iraq, and as such, the American ruler over Iraq and all U.S. military forces.

Lawrence Patterson in his publication, Criminal Politics, pointed out it was treason to place Negroponte in Iraq, but too few people read or know about Lawrence Patterson. Here is just a short biography on Negroponte, taken from Wikipedia:

"Negroponte (below right) was born in London; his father, Dimitri John, was a Greek shipping magnate and his mother is Catherine Coumantaros. He graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy, in 1956, and Yale University in 1960. He was a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity, alongside William H.T. Bush, the uncle of President George W. Bush, and Porter Goss, who served as Director of Central Intelligence and Director of the Central Intelligence Agency under Negroponte from 2005 to 2006.

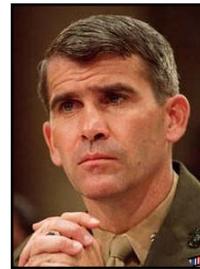

He later served at eight different Foreign Service posts in Asia, Europe and Latin America; and he also held important positions at the State Department and the White House. In 1981, he became the U.S. ambassador to Honduras. From 1985 to 1987, Negroponte held the position of Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs. Subsequently, he served as Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs, from 1987 to 1989; Ambassador to Mexico, from 1989 to 1993; and Ambassador to the Philippines from 1993 to 1996. As Deputy National Security Advisor to President Ronald Reagan, he was involved in the campaign to remove from power General Manuel Noriega in Panama. From 1997 until his appointment as ambassador to the UN, Negroponte was an executive with McGraw-Hill.

Negroponte speaks five languages (Greek, Spanish, French, English, Vietnamese). He is the elder brother of Nicholas Negroponte, founder of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Media Lab and the One Laptop per Child project. His other brother, Michel Negroponte, is an Emmy award-winning filmmaker. Negroponte and his wife, Diana Mary Villiers Negroponte, have adopted five children, Marina, Alejandra, John, George and Sophia. They were married on December 14, 1976."

Negroponte carries heavy political baggage, since he was a point man for the American shadow government run by Admiral John Poindexter (right) and Marine Colonel Oliver North (below) during the so called Iran-Contra affair, as they operated out of the basement of the White House during President Reagan's term of office. For the younger readers born after 1970, this was a great scandal that led to congressional hearings and the leaders of the NSA were indicted for criminal behavior, some were found guilty, but later pardoned by President George H. W. Bush following Reagan's term.

IRAN CONTRA AFFAIR

Here is a short background, President Reagan wanted the communists in Nicaragua under the leadership of Ortega overthrown, and the CIA was ordered to build up an army called the "Contras," who were trained and supplied in Honduras. Congress, this time under democratic rule, passed the "Boland amendment" making it illegal to fund the Contras with American taxpayer money. The NSA then devised the following plan: The Iranian government was at great odds with the U.S. after the takeover of the U.S. Embassy in 1979, but needed spare parts for its armed forces, which mainly consisted of American hardware. American military equipment and spare parts were shipped to Israel, who in turn sold them to the Iranians for a profit. Some of the money was then given back to the CIA, who in turn used this money to buy supplies and weapons for the Contras, which were flown on CIA aircraft out of Mena airport in Arkansas. Once the airplanes had unloaded their military cargo, they were loaded with cocaine and other drugs, which were flown back to Mena airport. CIA operators then sold the drugs to American mafia gangs. The CIA got some more money, which they used to finance this operation. At this time, Bill Clinton was the Governor of Arkansas; he was made part of this operation since the CIA needed to silence the state government. Negroponte was the American ambassador to Honduras during this time and was the highest ranking American to oversee the operation in Central America.⁸

⁸ For a complete coverage of this sad story in American history order from us, a copy of The Dove Magazine, Autumn 1999.

Negroponte continued the wrecking job started by Bremer and served as ambassador to Iraq until he was called back to Washington D.C. and nominated by President Bush to become the first Director of National Intelligence (the fox guarding the hen house). He was confirmed by the Senate on April 21, 2005 and consequently sworn in.

THE CURRENT SITUATION IN IRAQ AS OF NOVEMBER, 2006

During the month of November, of all people, Henry Kissinger was invited to one of the Sunday talk shows in the U.S. and made this statement: "Victory is not possible in Iraq." He of all people should know what he is talking about, since the American policy in Iraq has been directed by Kissinger. Every day on our television screens we are seeing more and more violence and the TV anchors are telling the American people that an all out civil war is now just around the corner. The British government under Tony Blair has made the decision to bring home all British troops by May, 2007, regardless of how the situation is on the ground.

But the U.S. army is stuck in Iraq and forced to bleed and take more and more casualties, not only in dead, but in wounded soldiers, some who will be in wheelchairs for the rest of their lives. Nancy Pelosi is "in bed" with the Jewish leadership and the democrats are not going to bring American troops home. Bush has become a laughingstock of the world, and people are blaming him for being stupid and creating this mess. They do not realize that he does not dictate policies. He just gets up every morning and is given a list of what to do and say that day. He is a puppet, just like every president since the days of Abraham Lincoln, who was the last free president of the United States.

We, the American people are now looking toward a disaster in the Middle East, and in the long run, it will be settled with a nuclear war led by Israel, which will lead into World War III. The question is not if this is going to happen but when it is going to happen. The damage done to the Iraqi people is too great to be fixed at this time, unless God himself intervenes and does something in the supernatural. This is our only hope and what each Christian should pray for; there is no military or diplomatic solution.

Look at these facts: As of December 5, 2006, 2,900 U.S. troops have been killed in Iraq. 21,921 have been wounded, most of them ending up with damages making them permanently disabled for the rest of their lives. It is estimated that some 650,000 Iraqi people have been killed (civilians and military) since the war started on March 20, 2003. The occupation of Iraq is costing the U.S. taxpayers $250 million per day.

Iraqis are fleeing their country at a rate of 100,000 persons per month. A total of two million people are living in other nations as refugees: 700,000 in Syria, 600,000 in Jordan, 150,000 in Egypt, around 30,000 in Lebanon and others in different Islamic nations. Most of them are professionals like doctors, nurses, teachers, businessmen, engineers, and skilled workers. There is a drainage of brain power in Iraq, as most of its educated and capable citizens are either gone or in the process of leaving.

Jordan is the most vulnerable nation at this time, since it has only a population of four million, and half of these are Palestinian refugees from 58 years ago when they were driven out of Palestine (now Israel). The current Jordanian king has a British mother and was educated in England. He is ruling Jordan as a dictator with a very fragile support base. Because of this situation, the Jordanian government has forbidden schooling for the Iraqi refugees' children and is putting pressure to have them expelled.

Another hidden cost that few Americans are thinking about is the emotional damage done to the service men and women who have survived their tours in Iraq and are coming home to the U.S. Just like Vietnam, they have experienced violence that cannot be described; the nightmare of combat and an enemy lurking someplace will keep them awake at night. Many have already snapped upon coming back, and as a result, murdered a wife or a child. The homecoming for many of these men and women has turned into a nightmare, and instead of having a great time with their families, they are ending up in the divorce court. Drugs and alcohol will be used to deaden the pain, and just like the men returning from Vietnam, they will fill our hospitals, mental facilities, prisons, not to mention our cemeteries through suicide. Since America has decided to turn from God and run Jesus out of the nation, these men and women are without help. Sex, rock-n-roll, false religions and psychological counseling have nothing to offer them, and the result will be another lost generation, where children are growing up without a father or mother. This is why Christians should be focusing more on prayer and evangelism than anything else.

THE ISLAMIC POLICY

There are two sets of leadership in the Arab world, secular political leaders and the Islamic clergy. These two groups are now in a fight over who will rule the Islamic nations. It is a well known fact in the Arab world that the United States, England and France have meddled in their politics over the years. The Kingdom of Jordan was set up by England, the Saudi leadership is a creation of the United States, and Saddam Hussein was client of the United States and used to wage war on Iran. The Shah of Iran was set up by the United States CIA and in 1978 overthrown by Islamic clergy, which now rules Iran. The Syrian and Lebanon governments were set up by the French. If there is one thing the people in the Middle East can agree upon, it is the fact that Western Nations cannot be trusted and will renege on all treaties and promises. They view us in the West as double-crossers, with one interest only, controlling the region and its oil fields.

THE POLICIES OF SECULAR MUSLIM LEADERS

In order for the Christian living in the West to understand the secular political leaders in Turkey, Lebanon, Syria, Egypt and Jordan we must know that these men and women are Muslims in name only. Political leaders like Ted Kennedy (Roman Catholic) and Bill and Hillary Clinton (Southern Baptists) are Christians in name only. They drink alcohol, attend dances, smoke, swear, do not attend church on a regular basis, do not read the Bible, do not pray, etc. Religion to them is just something they were born into, at times it is useful for their political agenda, but they are not active in church activities. They support abortion, push homosexual agendas and are mingling with the rich and the powerful. They indulge themselves in fornication, adultery, pornography and live a lifestyle which the Bible calls "sinful."

Their Muslim counterparts live a similar life. They like the power, the rich lifestyle access to Western luxury, long vacations in the well-known recreation areas of the world, where they can drink, gamble, be entertained by luxury whores and eat the finest food available.

During the winter, the young people of secular Muslim leaders either ski at Saint Moritz in Switzerland or at Aspen in Colorado. Spending $5,000 a day is just change for these rich young people. Many rich Muslim families travel to Florida or Southern California for their vacations, others stay closer to home by going to the French Riviera. Families like these are known for spending more than $10,000 per day, asking only for the best in their lodging, eating and entertainment. On the streets of Amman, Damascus, Cairo, Beirut, Kuwait City and Riyadh there is an ample supply luxury cars like Rolls Royce, Lexus, Mercedes, Bentley, Porsche, BMW; furthermore, the poorer middle class people drive Volvos and other less expensive cars which sell for around $50,000. When a wife wants to go shopping for clothing, shoes, cosmetics, etc., she flies to France, England or the United States to buy the best money can buy. Luxury goods such as big flat screen television sets, furniture and appliances are imported from around the world. When the rich get sick, they are flown to hospitals in Western Europe or to the United States, where cost is not an issue. This lavish lifestyle is paid for by oil money flowing in by the billions per day.

Domestic servants are imported from nations like the Philippines, Thailand, Pakistan, etc. Women from these nations are treated like slaves, and many of them also have to serve as sex slaves for their masters.

HOW THE SECULAR RULERS ARE ABLE TO STAY IN POWER

SECRET POLICE

Each one of these Muslim nations I have mentioned has a large secret police (intelligence operation), which has infiltrated every aspect of the nation, from education to the military. If someone criticizes the regime, they are picked up by the secret police and taken to a prison facility where they are tortured and mistreated in order to either scare them or to have them confess to a crime which they have not committed. If the commanding officer feels that the person can be released back into the general population, they are warned not to speak about what has taken place, and told that if they speak, they will be executed. Persons deemed too dangerous to let go are put through "kangaroo courts," where they are sentenced to long prison terms or death. If it is not convenient to arrest a dissident, an assassination team is sent out, and the person is blown up, poisoned or shot.

Agents working for the regime are well paid, and their families are looked after, but each agent knows that if he defects and starts talking about what is happening, he will be picked up, tortured to the max (which is videotaped and showed to new recruits, as part of their training) and then killed in the most excruciating way. Their bodies are cremated and their families will never know what happened to them.

THE MILITARY

The armed forces in these nations are the pillars for the regimes. Officers are carefully picked and only those loyal to the regime will be accepted. They are paid above and beyond what they can make in civilian life; as a result, these officers will defend the regime and their own positions to the max. Non-commissioned officers are treated in the same way, and the enlisted soldiers are always paid very well with many perks. Thus, the secret police and the military are "nations" within the nation, each needing each other to hold on to power. They know if fanatical Muslims take control of their nation, their good days are over, and many of them will be executed on orders of the Mullahs. This is what happened to the Iranian secret police, the Savak, and the armed forces under the Shah, when Khomeini took power in 1979 and disposed of the Shah.

THE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

This is the weakest point in these nations. Professors and teachers must be controlled and told not to stir up the students and put thoughts of freedom of speech in their minds. These nations are not democracies but dictatorships with a terrible human rights record.

By offering well paid jobs to the intelligentsia like doctors, nurses, scientists, attorneys, teachers, journalists, engineers, etc., they are able to control most of them, since greed and a desire for a life of luxury will buy their loyalty. Most of these people are Muslim in name only, they live and act just like secular Christians do in the West.

It is interesting to note that a man like Osama bin Laden was born into a wealthy family from Yemen who had established themselves as a construction firm in Saudi Arabia. Osama saw the corruption but used his riches to start a rebellion. From 1979 through 1989, Osama was on the payroll of the CIA, which furnished him and his fighter's stinger missiles and other equipment with which to fight the Soviet Union when they invaded Afghanistan. Once the Soviets were driven out of the nation, the CIA had no use for Osama and his fighters. Disillusioned, he did the same thing that Ho Chi Minh of Vietnam did after World War II was over, he turned on his former employer and Al Qaeda was born.

THE MULLAHS (Muslim clergy)

The secular leaders in the Islamic nations have been feeding and paying the mullahs to hold the poor masses under control by using religion. For centuries, mullahs have been towing the line, but in the last century, the younger ones began to think on their own, desiring more power and money. They call themselves fundamentalists, preaching a return to strict Islamic law and rule. The masses are whipped up into a religious frenzy, actually believing the concocted teaching of the Mullahs. One such prime example is the Iraqi Shiite cleric Muqtada al-Sadr, who is giving much grief to the U.S. military command in Iraq. The man is a charlatan, using Islam to propel him to a leadership position, using his militia to murder Sunni opponents and hoping that someday he will be the ruler of Iraq and live a lavish lifestyle, filled with women, alcohol and luxury palaces, like Saddam Hussein used to have. That this man is eating well can be seen. He is getting fatter and fatter with greed for power and fame shooting out of his eyes, as he screams and whips up his followers at his Friday services. This man is just as phony as a three dollar bill.

SUMMARY

- The secular regime in the Middle East does not want to see democracy take root in Iraq, therefore, behind the scenes they are sabotaging every American effort to help the Iraqi people.

- The fundamentalist Muslims do not want democracy, they want strict Islamic rule in order for them to take power and live a life of luxury.
- Israel does not want democracy and peace among the Muslims, since they would turn on Israel as a united front, to drive Israel into the sea.
- The American soldiers and the taxpayers are stuck in this satanic quagmire from which neither Democrats nor Republicans can pull us out, since the United States political system is totally in the hands of the Zionist World Federation.

ISLAM IS NO PEACEFUL RELIGION

I want every reader to understand that I do not condone or accept Islam as an alternative religion. The founder, Mohammad, was a thief, adulterer, liar, pedophile and a murderer. He established his home-made religion by the sword and imposed his will on people living in Saudi Arabia. After his death, his followers continued in his footsteps and waged a bloody murderous war against nations, and enslaved their people to the doctrine of Islam.

The spiritual leader of Mohammad is the Devil himself, and he has assigned a powerful Archon (prince) to be in charge of this operation. This Satanic Archon has held this position for some 1,300 years and is enjoying the slaughter of people and the suppression of the followers of Islam, making sure that they will not find Jesus Christ as their Lord and Saviour, but instead will be sent to hell when they die. I do not hate Muslims, instead, I want to see them saved and converted to Christ.

JUDAISM IS NOT A BENIGN RELIGION

I want the reader to know, that I do not hate Jewish people, nor do I wish them any harm. But it is Jesus himself who without hesitation told the Talmudic Jewish leadership what he thought about them. Look at these verses:

YOU ARE OF YOUR FATHER THE DEVIL

*They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham. Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; we have one Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God; neither came I of myself, but he sent me. Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word. Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not. Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me? He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God. Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil? Jesus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me. John 8:39-49

CHILDREN OF HELL

"But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the *kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves. Matthew 23:13-15

SYNAGOGUE OF SATAN

*I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan. Revelation 2:9

*Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. Revelation 3:9

It was the descent into idolatry that caused God to punish the children of Israel and have them taken into captivity: the ten northern tribes into Assyria and the tribes of Judah and Benjamin into Babylon. The descendants of the ten northern tribes were called Samaritans, when they returned to the Promised Land, and the other two tribes were called Jews, when they returned to Judea from 70 years of captivity in Babylon.

It was in Babylon that the Jewish rabbis developed what is known as the Babylonian Talmud, which was also known as the "Traditions of the Elders." In this perverted writing, the rabbis developed a theology that negated the teaching of the Torah (the Five Books of Moses) and replaced them with all kinds of man-made laws, including dehumanizing non-Jewish people, saying they don't have a soul and equating them with animals. Add to this the Cabala, which began long before King Solomon, but was greatly enlarged by him, and then with additions by rabbis through the centuries, and now consisting of more than 550 books, while the Talmud consists of around 660 books.

Accordingly, the conclusion from the teaching of Jesus is that Judaism as a religion is the work of the Devil, and it is he who is the author and moving power behind it. Only God is all present (omnipresent), all knowing (omniscient), and all powerful (omnipotent). Since the Devil is limited, he is placing Satanic Archons over his different religions.

Just like Satan allowed his archon over the Soviet Union to war against his archon over Nazi Germany, so the Devil is allowing his archons over Islam and Judaism to slug it out in a brutal and deadly confrontation.

To these two archons, it is like a game of chess. The world is the board, and the chess pieces are people, who are pitted against each other.

It is interesting, that in medieval times, there were kings who played chess. The chess board was large and laid out in a public place with bleachers around it. Slaves or prisoners of war would hold up symbols, indicating what kind of chess piece they represented such as a king, queen, pawn, etc. The kings would sit in a booth and call out their moves, and when a chess piece was taken and removed from the game, the person representing that piece would be executed on the spot. To the kings it was an amusing sport, as they had a good time fighting a "proxy war," but the people on the field did all of the dying.

We must understand that the satanic ruler of Islam is not hostile towards the satanic ruler of Judaism. Instead, they are friends playing a "chess game" and enjoying themselves very much. As the battle is sea-sawing back and forth, people on both sides are killed. Some are maimed for life and the satanic rulers are packing hell full of their followers, as they lead them into death. On his throne, the Devil is having a great time by pitting men against men and deceiving them with eternal consequences.

Look at these verses from the Bible:

*And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling. Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words. But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Persia. Daniel 10:11-13

*Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come. Daniel 10:20

IS THERE ANY HOPE?

Our only hope is in the Son of God, Jesus Christ. The Bible tells us that the world will spiral toward a final showdown in Jerusalem. This has been prophesied by God's prophets and recorded in the Bible. Our task as Christians is to pray like we never prayed before and preach the Gospel with increased vigor. Witness at all times and do what you can to share the Gospel with a lost population in this world, regardless of their religious affiliation, if they are secular or if they do not believe in anything except in themselves. Please read Matthew, Chapter 24 and let Jesus speak to you.

HOW CAN I KNOW THAT GOD HAS FORGIVEN ME?

Many Christians are not secure in their salvation, while others are not sure that God has forgiven all their past sins, and there are still others who believe that God might have forgiven them but they must suffer in sickness and pay for their sinful lifestyle prior to Christ. Simply put, there are many Christians struggling in the mire of Satan's guilt and deceit who don't really know what the Bible says about God's forgiveness when we repent.

This series was born out of the necessity that many believers in Christ don't know how to live in the atonement that God has provided. Satan is constantly trying to inject fear and make us believe that we need to work for our salvation when it is actually a total work of God and none of our doing!

In this six-part series, the first five messages are essential building blocks leading to the culmination of the last exciting message!

UNDERSTANDING SPIRITUAL ADULTERY

Many married couples cringe at the thought of adultery and yet many times we are guilty of the very act when we are not faithful to God! If Jesus Christ is the groom and the Church is the bride, it must follow that when we as Christians are disobedient, we are actually committing spiritual adultery.

Many Christians are glad to have eternity insurance and claim to love the Lord but their hearts are far from Him. In the Old Testament, God speaks of going a whoring and committing whoredom. The concept here is that the people were not faithful to God since they were worshipping demon gods.

Most people worship before different types of images. The television set is an altar which can change into a number of worship forms, whereas, other people do their worship in sports arenas, rock concerts, nightclubs, gambling casinos, warehouses, etc. The good news in all of this is that the Bible tells us how to get out of the sin of whoredom and stop the spiritual adultery.

How to Live Victorious in a Hostile World

The world in which we live is certainly not the Garden of Eden; it is a hostile world where Satan freely roams about seeking someone to devour. From the very beginning, the world has hated Jesus. As a result, the world will also hate each believer in Christ; this is a truth that each Christian should understand and accept.

Before we can be successful, we need to know about the power of God, and once we know about it, we need to apply it!

The Devil doesn't like it when men are moving in the power of God and will go to any length to stop it; however, it doesn't matter what the Devil thinks or does, God is still in charge!

When the same power that raised Jesus up from the dead is surging through a human body, there will be nothing but total victory!

JUDGMENT ALWAYS BEGINS WITH GOD'S PEOPLE

by John S. Torell

For the last 2000 years, there have been no prophets like those in the Old Testament who foretold future events. In today's day and age, how are Christians supposed to find out what is going to happen in advance, and how do we know if natural catastrophic disasters are the result of judgment from God?

Only in reading the Bible can we find the answers to these questions! In order to understand biblical truth, it is essential to know more about Jesus. If you have never before done an in depth study of Jesus Christ, this will truly open your eyes!

God's wrath has two purposes: to bring His people back into repentance and to show unbeliever's that sin will not go unpunished. But what happens when people refuse to listen? What will God do when people refuse to repent?

God is not sentimental, He will discipline people and even execute them! It is true that God is love but there will come a time when He will not extend any more mercy. When we read the Scriptures, we see exactly how God dealt with His people, so why should we expect special treatment when we stray from His commandments?

THE FUNDAMENTALS OF CHRISTIAN DOCTRINE

by John S. Torell

In order to know and discern false doctrine, every saved person must first know what correct doctrine is as presented in the Bible.

In this 8-part series, join Pastor Torell as he takes a look at some the very basic beliefs of Christianity, and how they are important to our doctrinal foundation.

Topics covered in this series are:

- God is the Creator
- Bearing Fruit
- The Deity of Jesus
- Salvation
- Water Baptism, Communion, & Foot Washing
- The Baptism of the Holy Spirit
- The Gifts of the Holy Spirit
- The Second Coming of Christ

Teachings from the Book of Acts

Christianity is not a religion but a personal relationship with a loving God!

The Book of Acts is a living testimony to the fact that Jesus was more than just a good man but that He was resurrected and the words He spoke were true!

Join Pastor Torell as he looks at the early church with all their successes and failures and how they are a good example of what can happen when we are either obedient or rebellious to the Lord!
